GERMAN TREATY WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE WHEN RATIFIED BY THREE ALLIED POWERS

Peace Protocol Laid Before Senate is Turned Over to Foreign Relations Committee

LETTERS EXPLAINING PROTOCOL SUBMITTED

Germany Must Transmit List of Her Subjects Accused of Violation of Rules of War

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 1.—It was made known today at the White House that the protocol to the peace treaty, which was sent to the Senate late yesterday by the President, included the agreement that the German treaty shall come into force upon its ratification by three of the associated powers and Germany.

What else was contained in the protocol, if anything, was not disclosed.

Great Britain and Germany already have ratified the treaty, and as soon as it shall have been approved by two other of the associated nations it will take effect as far as those four countries are concerned, permitting the immediate resumption of full diplomatic and trade relations.

The protocol of the German peace treaty, defining explanations to the treaty agreed to in memoranda exchanged between German and allied plenipotentiaries was laid before the Senate today by Vice President Marshall.

The protocol was accompanied by explanatory letters from President Wilson and Secretary Lansing. The protocol was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee.

Among the provisions is one requiring the German government to transmit to the allied governments within one month after the treaty becomes effective a list of persons who are accused of having committed acts in violation of the laws and customs of war.

Another paragraph provides for the appointment of a commission to supervise the destruction of the German fortifications on Helgoland in accordance with the German treaty.

Provision is also made that "proceedings be taken against persons who committed punishable offenses in the liquidation of German property in the allied countries and the protocol says the allied and associated powers will welcome evidence the German government can furnish on this subject.

The text of the agreement between President Wilson and the representatives of the other big powers for government of the Rhine district also was presented by Senator Lodge who said he had received a copy privately after the document had been presented to the British parliament.

Committee to Make Investigation of Living Costs

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 1.—A committee to conduct an investigation of the high cost of living and report to President Wilson was appointed at the conference yesterday of cabinet officers at the office of Attorney General Palmer. This was announced today at the White House.

The special committee to consider means of reducing the high cost of living appointed at the meeting with the cabinet members yesterday will confine suggestions thus far made and reports to the Cabinet Monday.

One suggestion made, Mr. Palmer said, was that the government sell this year's wheat crop at the market price to be determined by the law of supply and demand and make up the guarantee to the farmers out of the billion dollar guarantee fund.

A resolution directing the Federal Trade Commission to inquire into the increase in the price of shoes was reported out today by the House interstate commerce committee.

President Urges Congress to Create Commission to Pass on Workmen's Demands.

Would Again Raise Railroad Rates to Meet the Increased Wage Increases.

Hines Wants Reduction of Living Cost Instead of Another Wage Increase.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, August 1.—A nation-wide strike of railroad shopmen was called today by the Federated Shopmen's Union. It was set for ten o'clock and shortly after that hour messages received told of walkouts at Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Boston, Philadelphia, Denver, and other places. Union officials said 100,000 men had walked out in this district.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, August 1.—President Wilson today asked Congress to create a special investigation committee to pass upon the wage increases asked by the railroad shopmen and other railroad employees.

The President asked Congress to stipulate that if wage increases are allowed it should be mandatory on the rate making authorities to increase railway rates enough to meet the advances.

The President forwarded to President Cummins and Representative Esch, chairmen respectively of the House and Senate Interstate Commerce Committees, the proposal made originally by Director General Hines and asked that provision be made for representation of both labor and the public on the body.

Director General Hines informed the President that inasmuch as the increases being asked by all classes of railroad workers aggregated a vast sum each year, he hoped something might be done to reduce the cost of living as an alternative because he doubted that his powers were sufficient to increase rates to meet the vast sum.

PESKY, BED BUGS

A MILLION BEDBUGS. Just think, a 35c package of the new golden chemical P. D. Q. (Pest Destroyer) kills enough to make a quart and enough to kill a million bedbugs, no matter how large they may be or where they come from, their eggs, color or sex, and at the same time leaves a coating on their eggs and prevents hatching.

CUT THIS OUT. This new chemical can be had at any first-class drug store. A 35c package makes a quart of P. D. Q., and will go farther than a barrel of old-fashioned bug killer. Don't let anybody impose upon your intelligence by offering you something else. Insist on what you ask for, then you'll have what doctors prescribe.

PAINTS PICTURE OF FRANCE IN TIME OF PEACE

Conditions Very Unsettled And Trouble Is Feared, Says Rev. Gage.

Says "Golden Age" Expected by Rank and File of French Has Not Come.

The following gloomy picture of conditions in France come from the pen of Rev. Wm. B. Gage, who is now located in Paris and is doing considerable writing for the Y. M. C. A., under whose auspices he went to France to take up war work:

"The golden age" they said was coming has not arrived. "The new world" they talked about is not here. The fact is that in the pre-war period we all probably said many things we had better not have said, and talked patriotically rather than wisely.

In Europe conditions are desperate. We Americans live well enough—some of us better than we ever have before, or likely will again. And around us rages the mad whirl of Parisian life. There are the boulevards, with their professional beauties; and the cafes with their crowds seated now in summer time out upon the sidewalk. And there are the restaurants filled with patrons, and paying fabulous prices for a single meal. It is wonderful; it is fascinating. We see it and we say we have seen Paris.

But have we? I wonder if we have seen the flesh and blood foundation upon which all this stands. No, we have not. It is there, men and women with their little children bending their backs to hold all this up. And how they suffer. How the sweat of sacrifice pours out upon their foreheads. How they have been promised the golden age, and the day of it is not even dawning. They have been told of a new world, but it is the old world, but with more misery and in which it is harder to live.

How do I know? Well I have had every facility to know. For weeks passed I have been in from the field that I might devote myself exclusively to the work of preparing for the Y. M. C. A. a book descriptive of the tours afforded the soldier boys during their days leave in Paris. And I have come to know Paris and the surrounding points of interest as few have. I have tramped it, rode it, talked it, read about it, written of it.

And because of the lure of it has gotten me, and I can talk with its people, I have gone into the unfrequented parts of it, and here is what I find; boiling discontent—seething dissatisfaction. And it is the kind that makes mobs and leads to violence.

The strikes, begun once, are over, only temporarily through the peoples' patriotism leading them to cease till peace matters were finally settled. The morning papers say they are likely to begin again the 23rd. And they will, if not then, some time.

The representatives of the Pittsburgh Dispatch said to me the other day, "I have lived in Paris for 17 years, I know the French, and I confidently expect here another revolution." I heard publicly the greatest American Editor now in Europe say practically the same thing. They may and they may not be right.

But this much is certain. Things here are in a very unsettled condition. And this peace celebration is but the peal of bells, that in a short time seem likely to toll mournfully. In fact at heart the French are not happy; nor is Europe, or any other part of the world. They have danced madly to the war tune and now they must pay the fiddler. And in former years it is the peasant who has paid. He has bent his back a little lower and drawn the belt a little tighter for the sacrifice.

Yes, probably it is a new world after all, for there seems to be a new peasant here. He is not willing to meekly submit. He says: "Why should not the rich folks pay? They have it, and I have not, but must earn it by slow process of toil extending through the years."

I read yesterday in an American paper the plea of an American banker to afford financial relief. And I knew that he was shivering in his boots as to what might happen regarding American European investment. America may well look this way with apprehension. The solidarity of the race is a fact now well established, and back and forth across the waters, despite war time prohibitions go the organizers of the labor movement in its world-wide aspects. I am sorry I have not been able to communicate with you more regularly. But the Y. M. C. A. since I have been here has been absorbing for its own use all my writing, and has now borrowed me from the Foyer du Soldat to write exclusively for them.

Today Telephone Properties Are Returned

After a year of Federal Control, the telephone property, which makes up the Bell Telephone System, is today returned to its owners by the United States Government. While the property has been properly maintained, it is not the same property which the Government took over on August 1, 1918. It is not as adequate for its job or as well manned as it was; that it is not, is in no way the fault of Federal Control, which was eminently fair. It is due to causes for which neither the Government nor the companies are to blame.

A year ago today we were at war. Labor and materials needed for both telephone operation and construction were turned to military uses. Some materials were so vital to the carrying on of the war that even the work of providing telephone facilities for the Government was retarded, and no part of them could be spared for commercial telephone purposes.

No less vital was the Government's need for those skilled to create, maintain and operate the vast intercommunication system necessary in modern warfare and in the conduct of the vastly increased Government services. Thousands of telephone men were already at the battle front. Thousands more were under arms, and still telephone experts and skilled operators went into the service of the Government and contributory industries by the tens of thousands.

The reserves of plant and equipment were drawn upon until they were entirely used up, and the experienced staff was gradually depleted. To find others to take the places of those who had gone was difficult, to train them takes time.

During the year victory and the armistice; and instantly the business world sprang into intense activity. The demands for telephone service passed all former records.

To replace the exhausted reserves which had been carried for just such purposes, and to replace the skilled forces to meet this unprecedented emergency, there began a rush for construction, for re-adjustment, for high pressure repairs, for feverish extensions. All these must be continued with increasing effort. The return of the property comes in the very midst of this race between an overpowering demand and an upbuilding of a system whose growth was held back and whose forces were scattered by the vital needs of war.

Much progress has been made in the upbuilding of this system, but far more is still required to meet the swift growth of business; and also to give "First-Aid" to every other business and every other service struggling against an unprecedented demand.

The prosperity which creates this emergency in service creates also a scarcity of those desiring employment in the service.

Under such conditions telephone service generally has not been and could not be up to the pre-war standard. It is beyond human power to immediately overcome the handicap which the situation imposes.

There are no people in any public or private endeavor who are working more tirelessly or strenuously for the common good than those of the telephone companies. Service has always been given; more of it must be given and it must be improved. That improvement in some cases will take months. Eventually service must win the race with demand.

DEATH ANGEL SUMMONS HOME A NOBLE WOMAN

Mrs. W. E. Ireland Succumbs On Friday Morning to Long Illness.

The mystic hand of death reached out to one of Washington's finest and best beloved women—Mrs. W. E. Ireland—shortly after five o'clock Friday morning, leaving the home on East street, which had been so happily built up under her guiding hand, bereft beyond the power of words to express.

The sorrow of the Ireland home is deeply shared in this community, with which Mrs. Ireland had been closely identified since the early years of her marriage and in which she had nobly taken her part for those things highest and best. The rustle of the death angel's wings meant for her release from weary months of illness, borne with the perfect patience of a rarely beautiful spirit and at the age of sixty years Mrs. Ireland entered into the eternal peace, leaving a shining memory to be warmly cherished.

Mrs. Ireland's illness dates back a year and a half and was due to pernicious anaemia, a strange disease which the most strenuous efforts of expert medical skill seemed utterly unable to check. With practically no suffering she gradually faded away and for the last twenty-four hours of her life was in a state of semi-coma, rallying to recognize her younger daughter, Mrs. Douglas Shoaff, upon her arrival from Illinois, and to speak her last words to her little granddaughter Florence Eleanor Shoaff.

Mrs. Ireland belonged to one of the old Jeffersonville families, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carr. She was born and lived in Jeffersonville until her marriage to Dr. Ireland. The first five years of her married life were spent in Leesburg, since which time they have resided here.

Mrs. Ireland was a wonderful wife and mother. In the early years when Dr. Ireland began the practice of the profession now so widely established, she played no small part as the help-mate in the home and the mutual devotion which existed between husband and wife, parents and children was singularly perfect. With Dr. Ireland survive three children: Horace C., Mrs. Augusta Dove, Mrs. Nell Shoaff, Shelbyville, Ill., and a nephew, Dr. Michael S. Creamer, of Los Angeles, Cal., who was taken into the Ireland home upon the death of his mother, Mrs. Ireland's sister, and who was as close to his foster mother as her own children. But a few months ago Dr. Creamer made a special trip from California for a farewell visit with her.

There are also seven grandchildren: Billy and James Ireland, Virginia, Robert, Barbara and Augusta Dove and Florence Eleanor Shoaff. Mrs. Dove was with her mother a couple of days before the end and Mrs. Shoaff came on the afternoon train Thursday. Also in the home and aiding in the affectionate care given Mrs. Ireland during the past year, were Mrs. T. M. Saxton, a niece, and Mrs. John Carr, a sister-in-law, and daughter, Miss Ruth.

Second only to her deepest interest, her family, was Mrs. Ireland's devotion to her church, Grace M. E. church. With all of its interests she had been prominently identified and when her health demanded dropping out there was a decided vacancy in each branch. Especially was Mrs. Ireland active in the Woman's Home Missionary Society and ably filled the office of president of the Grace church society for nineteen years. She was also a member of the Foreign Missionary Society. In the church Aid Society she was one of the band of women who were so active in raising funds and furnishing the new church and was for some time president of the society.

While life was full to overflowing Mrs. Ireland yet retained the warmest interest in her friends and her beautiful character no less than lovely personality have left their imprint indelibly upon all who came within her influence.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Monday at half past two o'clock. Burial will be made in the Washington cemetery.

An attempt to show to both laymen and doctors how life may be prolonged and the power of the mind also. It shows that the tragedy of premature mental decay is as preventable as that of premature death. It tells of no new nostrum of no royal and easy roads, but points out that in our bodies, if wisely managed, we possess the elixirs of prolonged health and days.

MEAT MARKET IS BURGLARIZED

Some time during Thursday night a thief entered the City Meat Market on West Court street and made a getaway with five dollars in money, one ham and several pieces of bacon.

An out side stairway leading to the basement was used by the thief who forced the door with an iron pipe and then ascended the stairs to the shop where he rifled the cash register of about five dollars in money.

The police are working on the case and arrests are expected to follow.

The Victory confectionary in this city is installing a handsome new and up-to-date soda dispensing fountain to take the place of the old one which had served for many years.

The new fountain is very attractive in appearance and is only one of the steps the Varlas Brothers have taken towards the remodeling of their place of business.

ILLNESS UPSET HIS NERVES AND MADE ARM NUMB

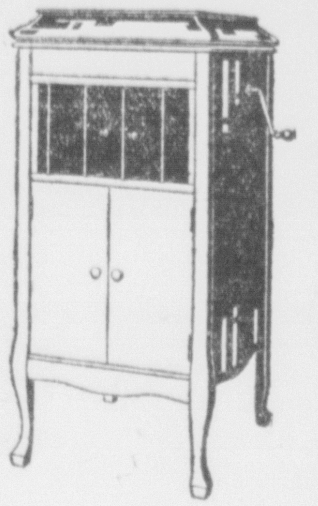

H. L. Martin Tells How Nerv-Worth Did What Doctors Couldn't Do.

This was a serious case. It looked very bad for that arm. But that was before Mr. Martin banked on the power of Nerv-Worth. Afterwards—but let Mr. Martin tell the story as he did a short time ago to his Zanesville Ohio, druggist:

Zimmer's Drug Store—I met with an accident some time ago which left me in a very nervous condition all over. I tried different doctors and could get no relief. They all said I would probably be troubled all my life.

I read where Nerv-Worth had been helping so many people and decided to try it. The first bottle made me feel better and after taking three bot-

It sums up all that has been done so far by human inventiveness to stimulate the sounds and harmonies of Nature; it combines in one magnificent whole every means of musical expression given by art to the human race. The questions of tone and tone-control the technical problems of sound re-production are so superbly solved in the Columbia Grafonola that comparison can leave no doubt of its supreme fitness for the place of honor among all musical instruments. In beauty of tone, in clearness and resonance, and in appearance it is certain to be equally gratifying.

Search Out the Best

Once more we suggest that the newspaper and magazine publishers, the lecturers, preachers and political speakers, in fact every one whose business it is to assist in circulating the news and recounting conditions, can do much to quiet the unrest, all too apparent throughout the world, by ceasing to dwell upon and emphasize the sensational outbreaks, minimize, so far as possible without deviation from the truth, the regrettable happenings of the time and give more space and more emphasis to the great wealth of pleasant things we enjoy.

We refuse to believe the world is in a worse condition than it has ever been. We believe sincerely that the people of the world are better today than ever before in history. We have made tremendous progress toward better things, we have better, higher, nobler thoughts and ambitions than ever before, we have more consideration for the rights of others, we take more interest in our neighbors' welfare than ever before.

Of course there are conspicuous exceptions, unfortunately, and the great improvement in people generally has the effect of exhibiting the wrong doers among the nations and individuals in more startling form than ever before because they are the exception.

For that reason all the publicity agencies are led into the mistake of giving too much space and too much emphasis to the wrong and the wrong doers, forgetting that the good accomplished by the overwhelming hosts of the many is really more remarkable, more worthy of comment and publicity than are the few exceptions.

If we, the people, could be permitted to turn from the daily accounts of the unhealthy and menacing conditions, if we could be excused from hearing and seeing them magnified, we believe we would all get along better and the feeling of unrest would subside in short order.

When we read of "so many horrors" these days let's remember the fact that the world has grown small and from every corner of the most distant lands, even from every zone of the oceans, we gather hourly, now days, the happenings and in minutes the whole world knows what is occurring everywhere.

We are in touch now with the whole surface of the globe as intimately as, a few years ago, we kept tab on the neighbors across the back fence.

Stop It

Evidence is not lacking that the propaganda plan so effective in the control of the nation as a means of securing co-operation of effort in war work, is being appropriated measurably at least by private enterprise to further selfish interest and increase private profit at the expense of the people.

While that purpose is still in its infancy it should be checked. Propaganda under individual direction, purposed to further selfish ends, is a monstrous thing.

Propaganda is spread by every idle gossip, every peddler of the "marvelous" and unusual and every publisher. There is no other way for false information to be scattered broadcast.

Interesting tales of a shortage in this or that commodity, wild tales of labor disturbances, disasters caused by weather or war, are industriously started by the selfish and circulated by the unthinking to pave the way by preparing public mind for another boost of some sort.

Don't be a peddler of wild tales—either by word of mouth or in publication. That's the way, and the only way to stop private propaganda.

The Treaty With France

Just why President Wilson did not submit the special treaty with France when the treaty of Versailles was submitted is not exactly clear. In his message to the Senate accompanying the treaty the President offers no explanation.

However, while that may be irritating to some senators and may tend to widen the breach between these senators and the executive, while it may be another aggravating act which President Wilson could have avoided, there is no reason disclosed, thus far, why the course followed is, in any way, a circumstance to be considered against the treaty ratification.

The great majority of the American people are in favor of ratifying the treaty. Our relations with France have been very close—the American people have great affection for the French and there seems no objection in agreeing in writing to just what every American would do in case France is again attacked just what we did do in 1917.

POETRY FOR TODAY

I HAVE MADE SONGS.

Though I have made you many a golden song,
Hymning your loveliness in artful rhyme,
No one of these but does your beauty wrong.

And stands a libel for all listening time.

Dusks, I have said, are clouding through your hair,
And Earth's old twilight lingers where you are.

Dreams, I have said, have made your eyes a lair

For largess brought from some old ruined star.

Yet, all of this is but a faltering art
Of futile words that strain beyond their reach;

And still about your image in my heart,
Trembles the cloistered silence closed to speech—

A tumbled shrine, a dim and holy place,
Where no least word profanes your lifted face.

FARM NOTES

Inspected Seed Wheat From County Agents.

As a result of the inspection of a number of wheat fields by representatives of the Farm Crops Department of the Ohio State University about 50,000 bushels of high grade seed wheat has been located, that is true to name. This wheat contains less than one-half of one per cent of a mixture of other wheat varieties and not more than a trace of cheat, cockle and smut. A list of farmers with their addresses, the amount of wheat, the variety and details concerning the quality of the wheat of each farmer has been filed with each county agent in the state. Farmers interested may secure this information concerning an improved variety of pure seed wheat by applying to their county agent. It may be that some of this wheat is located nearby and can be easily secured.

How Much Limestone Should Be Used Per Acre.

In a recent article by Professor Joseph F. Barker, Department of Soils of the Ohio State University, he says that "whether or not a community is making progress in improving the fertility of its soils can be measured best by the size of its orders for limestone and phosphorus." He further says that "probably three-fourths of the state will require five tons of limestone per acre to make the surface six inches of soil nonacid. Much of the land in Ohio now being farmed will require ten or more tons of limestone per acre before it can be classed as a neutral or nonacid soil."

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

On Thursday afternoon from four to five o'clock, Miss Margaret McDonald entertained twenty tiny tots at a very beautiful birthday party in honor of the second birthday of her little nephew "Buddie" Focke, of Dayton, who is spending some weeks at the McDonald home.

The children were all near the age of the small host, a very bright and cunning little fellow, and, dressed in white, with sashes of dainty hue, made a most alluring picture as they surrounded "Buddie" and presented him with pretty gifts.

Little Eli Craig won the prize, handkerchiefs, in a bird game, especially devised for the youngsters.

A luncheon of delicacies best suited to baby appetites was served, with the children seated around a lovely table. A color scheme of green and white was carried out in decorations and luncheon. The white birthday cake, with two green candles, formed the center piece. It was mounted on a high crystal stand from which rose a fountain of flowers. A mound of green formed the base, encircled by little Kewpie soldiers, at the end of green ribbons extending to each cover. The children were greatly pleased with the Kewpie soldier favors, the tiny candy baskets and also the small individual birthday cakes with two tiny burning candles, to be blown out on each plate.

Miss Elizabeth McDonald assisted Miss Margaret.

Member of the Chi Delta Chi Club complimented Miss Eva Van Winkle of Cincinnati with a jolly little picnic on Rattlesnake Creek, Wednesday evening.

In the party with the honor guest were Misses Mary Hanna Bliss, Mary Hagler and Eleanor Jones, Messrs. Richard and Willis Willis, Joseph Wilson and Ira Barchet.

Complimenting her daughter, Dr. Florence Rankin, of St. Petersburg, Fla., and niece, Mrs. Armethea Lieulien of Akron, both of whom are home on a visit, Mrs. Reuben Rankin entertained with a charming affair, of beautiful appointments, Thursday afternoon at her attractive country home at Parrett's station.

The violent storm prevented carrying out the original plans for a garden party, but the guests found the afternoon none the less enjoyable inside and with the cessation of the storm glimpsed the beautiful lawn through slanting sunbeams.

Garden flowers were in tasteful arrangement and a delicious collation was served. Mrs. Roy Creamer, a brilliant pianist, added to the pleasure of the afternoon in piano numbers.

Mrs. Charles U. Armstrong, of this city, the other daughter of the home assisted.

Sixty guests were in attendance, among them Mrs. Blanche Parrett, of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Charles Haigler, of Boston, Mass., Mesdames Frank M. Kennedy, E. F. Todhunter, Frank Dill, daughter, Miss Dorothy, J. H. Allen, Lewis Parrett, E. L. Bush, daughter, Miss Dorothy, W. E. Robinson, Armstrong, and Miss Fanny Browning of this city.

Mrs. Sharp-Davies, who as one of Washington's foremost women is deeply interested in the progressive movements of the day, threw open her spacious home Thursday afternoon for a Suffrage tea, attended by fifteen women.

Although the storm interfered with the attendance the tea was attended by the utmost interest and pleasurable sociability. Informal and instructive talks on this modern question were made and light refreshments served.

Mrs. C. C. Hazard gave a theater party, Thursday afternoon, for her daughter Charlotte, in honor of her twelfth birthday at the Wonderland theater to see Marguerite Clark in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

After the matinee the guests including Helen Rodecker, Mabel Sunkle, Genevieve Price Jean Worthington, Juanita Gerstner, Jean Michael, and Marjorie Sparks spent a merry little social time at Jimmie Miller's Confectionery.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE BRYANT

At five o'clock Friday morning, Mrs. Cora Ann Bryant, wife of Mr. George Bryant, passed away at the home on West Court street, at the age of forty-six years.

For nearly forty years, Mrs. Bryant had been suffering from asthma, but her illness had never been considered serious. On Thursday she was seized with a severe attack. At ten o'clock Thursday night she was given a hypodermic in the hope of relieving the suffering, and an hour later a second hypodermic was administered from which she never rallied.

Mrs. Bryant's chief interests were her home, husband and three children. Mrs. Tom Murray of this city, Charles of Columbus, recently discharged from military service and Georgia at home, and a grand son, Tom Gardner Murray, who was especially endeared to his grandmother.

Mrs. Bryant's death came as an overwhelming shock to her family and many friends in this community, her home for two score years, and much regret will follow the announcement.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 from the First Presbyterian Church of which Mrs. Bryant was an active member. Rev. J. L. McWilliams will officiate at the services.

Burial will be made in the Washington cemetery.

WOMEN'S DRIVE NOW DRAWING TO CLOSE

The Women's Mid-summer Drive for the sale of War Saving Stamps is drawing to a close. It is a matter of deep interest as to where Fayette County will stand in the contest. The feeling prevails that it should be a matter of pride as well as of thrift with both the men and women of Fayette County to see that our county goes over the top.

The monument that has been offered as a reward to the county making the best showing is a subject of interest.

Just now Licking County is in the lead with Morrow County not far behind.

Why not push Fayette County to the front?

It can be done if the motored people.

MANY FAILURES BLASTED HOPES

Ironton, O., July 31.—"I had taken so many medicines without getting relief I had become disgusted, but I think I have found in Trutona a preparation that is going to restore my health," Mrs. M. L. Martin, a well known Ironton woman of 314 Railroad avenue said recently.

"Stomach disorder was my main trouble. My appetite was poor and I was usually constipated. I was often bothered with headaches, too. I had become weak and so nervous I couldn't sleep at night. Always after meals, I'd feel so bloated I didn't know whether I could stand it.

"But I feel better all over, since taking Trutona. My appetite is so much better and my food seems to taste better than it has for some time. I sleep better at night now than I have for a long time. I've gotten a great deal of relief from the constipation, too and the former headaches have not bothered me for some time now. I can recommend Trutona to any of my friends and I feel sure it will help anyone who is suffering as I was."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Washington C. H., at Blackmer & Tanquary's drug store. Adv.

ple, the factories and all the business houses of the county will show their patriotic interest by lining up with the cause.

In Toledo and in other cities, nearly all the large stores, factories and office buildings are lined up to help the women's drive.

An urgent request has come from headquarters that every business house and firm in the county appoint one of their firm or employees to solicit for the sale of War Saving Stamps among their clerks and patrons.

The Fayette County Women's Organization will appreciate it if the head of each firm will call a solicitor appointed before being called upon. The women need your help.

COUNTY BUDGET COMMISSION WILL MEET ON MONDAY

The Budget Commission, composed of County Auditor Glenn M. Pine, County Treasurer A. W. Duff and County Prosecutor Harry M. Rankin, will meet Monday of the coming week and organize for the work ahead.

Without delay the Commission will be getting up the requirements of the various taxing districts of the county, and on the evening of Wednesday, August 6th will meet the Green township trustees and Green township board of education at Buena Vista, where a conference will be held regarding the financial needs of that township for the coming year.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CLUBS TO EXHIBIT

A feature of the Fayette County Fair this year will be the exhibits of the Boys' and Girls' Club Work. Although this will not be the first exhibit of the Club it will undoubtedly prove to be the best in view of the splendid progress attained by the young people.

This exhibit is expected to attract hundreds who have taken a keen interest in the work.

FARM IN ONE FAMILY 80 YEARS SELLS THURSDAY

D. B. Willhite on Thursday purchased the I. N. Rowe farm in Concord township. The Rowe farm, one of the choice home farms of the county, is located near Staunton, contains one hundred acres, well improved in every way and, something very unusual, has been in the Rowe family for over 80 years.

In four-fifths of a century no deed until that one of Thursday has ever been made for the land. Needless to say Mr. Willhite paid a stiff price for this choice farm.

Demand for Yellow Pine Greater Than Available Supply

(Manufacturers Record, Baltimore, Md.)

Jacksonville, Fla., June 26.—(Special.)—While the Government is vigorously urging every family man to own his own home, the force of this practical movement is being somewhat diminished in some sections by much talk concerning the high prices of building materials, and many who would like to own their own homes are hesitating to do so at this time in the hope that building material prices will come down. In this they are making a mistake. Under the inexorable law of supply and demand it is not likely that prices will decline for the next ten years. On the contrary, there is every indication that they will advance.

One hears much these days concerning the high prices of lumber for building purposes, and the complaint is often made that the manufacturers are to blame. Nothing could be more beside the fact. Within the week the writer has completed a canvas of the market situation in the yellow pine trade in the Southeastern States, and the result is a situation which is not in the least understood by the public. Also, it is a situation over which neither the manufacturer, wholesalers or the retailers have the slightest control. Present prices of yellow pine lumber are the result solely of a demand greater than the supply.

Never in the history of the yellow pine trade has there been such a demand for building lumber, and never has this lumber been so scarce. The most unusual conditions have prevailed throughout the yellow pine producing territory for the past nine months. Labor in the woods and at the sawmills has been so scarce, and the available labor so inefficient that even under most ideal sawmilling conditions the mills have only been able to limp along at best. This, coupled with from three to four months of unprecedented rainy weather, which for a while brought the sawmills to a dead stop, prevented any accumulation of stocks against the regular demand of the spring season.

Everyone knows that the war put a stop to building operations in this country and that its close finds the nation in need of hundreds of thousands of new structures, besides hundreds of thousands of others that are in dire need of repairs. Against this situation there are no lumber stocks in the retail yards in the nation's great consuming territories, nor at the sawmills. Many dealers have also accepted orders which they are unable to place. Small wonder then that the market has advanced of its own accord when the buyers in armies are beating the bushes in the yellow pine producing territory trying to find mills that are equipped to accept their orders, manufacture and ship the lumber. This is the real reason for high prices of building lumber and other building materials.

Lumber manufacturers are by no means enjoying the degree of prosperity, however, that lumber prices would appear to indicate. In the first place the sawmills are all more or less loaded up with "cheap" business, orders that were taken as long as a year or more ago at prices which then prevailed. This lumber the manufacturers are endeavoring to ship as fast as they can and this is one reason why they are not able to accept more "high-priced" business than they do. The labor situation is hardly a whit better than it was during the black days of the war and the available supply in the woods and at the mills is scarcely more than 50 per cent. efficient. Weather conditions are better, but the demand, paradoxically as it may seem, has scarcely started.

The building demand in this country, which has already swamped the sawmills, constitutes only a fraction of the demand that is to come. The railroads, which annually consume a third of the nation's yellow pine lumber, naturally affect the market to a large extent, and the railroads have not yet even commenced to buy lumber. How necessary it is for them to do so is obvious at almost any point by a glance at the condition of the road-beds and trackage appurtenances, depots, freight sheds, etc. And the need for cars is tremendous. This is why an officer of the Georgia-Florida Sawmill Association said to the writer that "we have not yet seen the beginning of high prices."

Not only are the needs of this nation to be supplied with the product of our sawmills, but all Europe has to be rebuilt, and the export business has not yet started in a serious way, despite the fact that all available bottoms are already engaged in carrying lumber to Cuba, the West Indies, Central and South America, and European ports. It will be some time before trans-atlantic trade can adjust itself to the big business ahead of it and it would appear to an outsider looking squarely at the situation that now is the time to "build your own home" in this country while prices, as high as they are, are cheap.

Tonight at the Palace Theater Florence Reed, one of the leading stars of the legitimate drama, may be seen in her latest screen vehicle, "The Woman Under Oath," which presents the remarkable case of the first woman juror appointed in a certain state. The subject is timely and opens up to Florence Reed a novel role which at once provides that emotional actress wide scope for her undoubted histrionic powers and forms the basis of one of the most powerful screen dramas.

Considerable space has been devoted recently in the public press to this question of woman jurors. Is woman temperamentally fitted for service on a jury in a criminal case? Will that intuition which women are conceded to possess in high degree prove a surer and safer guide than mere masculine logic?

These and similar questions arise in connection with this play. With Miss Reed's recent successes "The Wives of Men," and "Her Code of Honor," fresh in the minds of local picture patrons and the fact that "The Woman Under Oath" will be shown here but one night, the attendance to-night promises to be one of the largest of the season.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BURN BARN

Thursday afternoon at four o'clock a fire-bug made an unsuccessful attempt to burn a barn on Lakeview Avenue.

A book, an Agricultural report, was used by the one endeavoring to start the fire. The leaves were partly torn out but the book failed to burn and was discovered smoldering in the barn.

An investigation is being made by the fire men and police.

SEE RELIEF LATE IN 1920
Boston, August 1.—Shoes sold next spring will bring even higher prices than those now prevailing, but relief may be expected late in 1920, according to a statement issued Thursday by the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' Association. The cause of high prices was said to be the depletion of stocks under wartime conditions, the prosperity of the public and European buying.

CANADIAN COST OF LIVING SOARS

(By Associated Press)
Ottawa, Ont., July 31.—Despite government efforts to reduce prices, the cost of living in Canada continues to soar. The high prices were cited as the cause of unrest in every district according to investigators of the recent strikes throughout the Dominion. Government officials stated that the high cost of necessities was responsible for the dissatisfaction of thousands of conservative workmen. They also assert this subject gave radicals an excuse for trying out more ambitious schemes.

The average cost of 29 staple foods in sixty cities in June was $13.72, as compared with $13.53 in May, official statistics show. In June, 1914 the average was $7.35.

NAMED DIRECTOR

(By Associated Press)

HEAVIEST RAIN IN SEVEN YEARS

For the 24-hour period ending at 5:00 a. m. Friday, the local weather records show that the rainfall was 3.45 inches, or the greatest rainfall in any 24 hour period since the memorable flood of March, 1913.

The great rainfall did no raise the streams to flood stage, due in part to the comparatively small area of the heavy rains.

LOCAL LAD LOST NEAR FRUITDALE

While gathering blackberries in the hills around Fruitdale Thursday, Clarence Jones, the 14 year old son of Nathaniel (Casey) Jones of this city, became separated from his parents and at three o'clock Friday afternoon had not been found, according to reports reaching this city.

The lad was gathering the berries, it is understood, in company with his father and several others when it was noticed that he was missing. After a short search the entire countryside was aroused and a systematic hunt failed to reveal a trace of the missing boy.

Aid has been asked of the police of this city and of other surrounding towns near the section where the boy disappeared.

Even if there were such a thing in America as a vote of lack of confidence it is doubtful whether Mr. Burlinson would pay any attention to it.

BRITISH ATTEMPT MASS PRODUCTION

(By Associated Press)
London, July 1.—(By Mail)—A large British engineering company has announced its entry into the field of motor car production with a model which is openly regarded as an attempt to meet American competition by adopting American methods of mass production. The company hopes to put 20,000 cars on the market in the first year. This car, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London, is to be of 16 to 20 horse power, to carry five passengers and sell at approximately $1490. Thus far only one car has been built and this was for testing purposes.

BARN IS STRUCK HORSE IS KILLED

During one of the electrical storms Thursday afternoon, the barn at the Sherman Yerlan home, four miles east of this city, was struck by lightning and a horse valued at several hundred dollars was killed.

Several posts in the barn were splintered, and a set of harness literally destroyed. As the barn contained many tons of hay its escape from destruction by fire is regarded as almost miraculous.

DESPISED SKUNK HAS FOUND FRIEND

Despised and maligned for years, the much abused skunk is beginning to find friends among those whose inclination or business take them out of doors. That the skunk is a financial proposition of moment is seriously insisted in an editorial of the Hunter-Trapper-Trapper of Columbus, Ohio, in the current issue. This magazine urges protection to the skunk and goes on to define what it means by protection.

"Protection does not mean merely confining trapping to the open season now provided for in a majority of our states," says the writer. "This is not enough. This valuable animal must be taught that man is not his enemy but his friend. With skunks, that is not difficult. They are neither savage, cunning nor have they instinctive hate for man, possessed by many of their larger brethren. Indeed, the skunk lends itself to domestication with great ease.

"Allow them to rove the fields unmolested during the warmer months, feed them in case of heavy snows, and allow them to raise their young untroubled. In the end it will pay—and pay well."

If the Monroe Doctrine relies on Senator Sherman to save it were afraid it's in a bad way.

MANY MEMBERS ADDED TO CLUB

Two energetic members of the Fayette County Automobile Club recently started on a drive for new members for the club, and in three hours' time had enrolled 50 new ones, greatly swelling the rapidly growing membership roll.

The local club is affiliated with the State Automobile Association and American Automobile Association, so that membership entitles the member to all courtesies extended by the Associations in the state and nation.

"Now I can see both near and far with one pair of glasses"

"The little rogue 'picked' my pocket! Yes, hid my reading glasses behind her and gleefully watched me fumble and search for them. How well I remember it! It made me realize how inconvenient it was to fuss with two pairs of glasses—one for reading, the other for distance—and caused me to invest in Kryptoks, which combine near and far vision in a single pair." With Kryptoks you glance up from your book—just as Brown is doing in this picture—and see objects at a distance as clearly as you read the type on the printed page.

KRYPTOK GLASSES THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

Unlike other bifocals, Kryptoks are without the telltale seam or hump. They cannot be distinguished from single-vision lenses.

Plans are being made for having a booth at the fair grounds and bringing the club and auto owners closer together. It is expected that the membership at the end of fair week will be somewhere between 500 and 1,000.

The attractive radiator insignia issued by the club is another guarantee against theft.

Already the Fayette County Auto Club has accomplished much, and there is every indication that a great many more things of vast importance and interest to all auto owners will be taken up from time to time, and action obtained.

PART OF ESTATE TO COUNTY HOME

After making two or three small bequests Timothy Lamoreux, former photographer and Civil War Veteran who passed away in this city recently, leaves the remainder of his estate to the County Children's Home. His total estate is said to be less than $1,000.

The will was drawn, July 28, 1919 while the testator was on his death bed, and was witnessed by T. N. Craig and Phil E. Rothrock, Wm. C. Miller is made executor of the estate.

The document calls for payment of debts; payments of funeral expenses, which were not to exceed $150. Gives house hold goods to Wm. Miller and Wilbur Orr; gives $350 to Wm. Miller and the remainder of his property to the Children's Home.
